

Happy Birthday, Dr. Seuss

Happy Birthday, Dr. Seuss.
I love you more than Mother Goose.
Silly people, places, words;
Such silly words, we've never heard.
They make us giggle, laugh and grin,
Then we want to hear them again.

Sometimes in all the silliness,
There's a lesson that we shouldn't miss:
Take time to meet someone new,
That might not look or act like you.
Or have a taste of something green,
You may like it, as we have seen.

So on this day, to honor you,
We'll share your words with someone new.
A teacher with her class has fun.
A grandmother reads to her young grandson.
They all giggle, laugh and grin
And ask for it to be read again.

~ Mama Carmody